

Join our community

Scan the QR code to find out more about our community on our website.

Get in contact with us via email, Mastodon, Slack, GitHub, or LinkedIn

<https://e-editiones.org/join>

Become a Member

e-editiones offers institutional and individual memberships.

Find more information on our website or write to:
board@e-editiones.org

Editions with Future rooted in standards
built by the community meant to last

e/e

e-editiones is an international non-profit society bringing together edition projects, cultural heritage institutions, scholars, and developers to empower digital projects by promoting open standards and community collaboration—with the ultimate goal of helping to sustain editions far into the future.

Who we are

What we do

Foster the development of open source software for digital scholarly editions and related projects.

Provide a meeting place and think tank for researchers, memory institutions, and developers alike.

Organize regular workshops and community meetings.

Why become a member?

Gain access to our knowledge hub and influence the future of the open-source tools we develop.

Get advice for all steps in your edition project life-cycle:

- funding applications
- workflows, including HTR/OCR models, setting up your database, and creating your digital scholarly edition
- publishing and long-term hosting of editions

The image displays a collage of screenshots from various digital humanities projects and platforms developed by e-editiones. It includes:

- tei Publisher: A screenshot showing a map interface with green dots and labels like "Holland", "BELGIË / BELGIQUE", and "FRANCE".
- LGPN SEARCH BETA: A screenshot of the Lexicon of Greek Personal Names (LGPN) search results, showing a list of names and their details.
- OFFICE OF THE HISTORIAN: Screenshots of the website featuring the US seal, news about "Foreign Relations of the United States, National Security Policy", and "Foreign Relations of the United States, Eastern Europe".
- Karl Barth Gesamtausgabe: A screenshot of the search interface for Karl Barth's works, showing search results for "Personen", "Orte", and "Begriffe (Bände 55, 56)".

Overlaid on the screenshots are several text boxes highlighting features of the tools:

- committed to open source, built on open standards
- offering user-friendly tools for the whole life-cycle of your edition
- accessible for scholars with varying technical skills
- supportive community, extensive documentation, regular updates
- customizable building blocks tailored to your needs reusable across multiple projects
- compatible and interoperable with other projects and tools in the digital humanities